Passiontide

Now that we have moved past Laetare (Rejoice) Sunday, which marked the halfway point to the Holy Season of Lent, the final two weeks of Lent are known as Passiontide. The best way to describe this period is that it is the final sprint in a long race. Although not kept as strictly or as severely, these final two weeks once saw an increase in the spiritual practices of fasting, praying, and almsgiving. If you had been "soft" during Lent up to this point, that must be done.

The primary focus shifts to the Passion (Jesus' suffering and Crucifixion). In a sense, Passiontide prepares for Good Friday. What happens on Good Friday? It is a day of fasting and abstinence. It is a day of prayer (the ten petitions during the Good Friday service). It is a day to hear and to meditate upon the death of our Lord Who saved us from our sins. It is an intense day, like running a marathon. Thus, just as athletes train for marathons, Christians train for Good Friday.

Thus, what is your Lenten penance? How can you intensify it? How can you pray more? Fast more? Give more? What more can you do to prepare yourself for the Passion of the Lord?

This might mean saying no to other things so that there is more time for God. Back in the day, some people would go multiple days in a row without eating, or would spend a number of hours in prayer, or would be especially generous in their charity. It was also common to work less. Of course, the culture was different then and allowed for these things to happen. However, what can you do? Perhaps there are projects that can wait until after Easter Sunday so that you can spend more time in prayer, fasting, and almsgiving.

When the Easter Triduum (Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, and Holy Saturday) arrived, the faithful would be ready to give themselves to the Lord. They spent hours in prayer after Maundy Thursday, Good Friday into Saturday, and the whole night of the Vigil! Of course, we do not take that long anymore because of all the other things going on. Perhaps this year, we can chip into "those other things," let some of "those other things" go, and choose to spend time with the Lord during this Passiontide. What more can you do for Jesus?

Blessings,

Fr. Matthew

The next saint is one I have written about before so she should be fairly familiar to us. Saint Faustina is a saint who should be readily on our mind when we discuss mercy. She was instrumental in bringing Christ's mercy to a more prominent place in the daily lives of the faithful.

Was this something new, Jesus's Divine Mercy? No, this wasn't something new but it was through St. Faustina that Christ brought greater attention on His endless mercy. St. Faustina lived in Poland around the same time as John Paul II. Suffering was no stranger to her or any of the other Polish people. The idea of Christ's mercy was certainly not prominent at that time. Most people thought of God as a strict judge who was just waiting to punish His people. As you can imagine, it probably wasn't hard to think that, given the suffering of the people at the time. Saint Faustina used her suffering to aid the souls in purgatory as well as other souls who needed God's mercy. Most often, she had no idea who she was even suffering for.

Keeping in mind that our definition of mercy is to care for those who suffer, by her own suffering Saint Faustina was caring for those who also were suffering. Is this something that we also are able to do with our own suffering? Absolutely! This gives purpose and meaning to any of our suffering that we experience whether that is physically in our body (cold, flu, headache, sore muscles, etc), mentally (trying to figure out an assignment, or study for a test), emotionally (sadness over friends or family, feelings of anxiety or even depression), and even spiritually (struggling to pray, not feeling close to God, etc). All these are just some of the ways we might be suffering that we can also be offering up to those who also need Christ's mercy.

St. Faustina had visions of Jesus and He would tell her of His endless mercy. She wrote about them in her diary. It was through these visions that we have the Divine Mercy novena that is said from Good Friday until Divine Mercy Sunday (the Sunday after Easter). There is so much to learn and know about St. Faustina that I could write about her from now until next year but the main thing to note is that she allowed God to use her as He willed. Without her willingness and openness to Him, we might not truly know the mercy of God.

Saint Faustina, pray for us.

4K & 5K with Mrs. Klinge

We love to read the fun rhymes in Dr. Seuss books! "I Wish that I had Duck Feet" was loads of fun... What animal trait would you like to have and why?

- I would like a zebra spike to scare others away.
- I wish I had shark teeth so I could bite an apple so quick.
- I also would like a long neck so I could see up to there and grab the fruit off the tree to eat so quick!
- I would want deer antlers to carry my backpack and pencils on, and attack other things.
- I want to be just the way God made me
- I want a RB551 head (Star Wars). Then I would have a cool voice.
- I want owl wings to fly and owl eyes to see in the dark.
- I want goofy feet so I can walk all over, even in the water.

1st & 2nd with Mrs. Balk

On Tuesday, Father Klos spoke in his homily about gratitude. We talked more about that when we got to our classroom and spent some time thinking about what we are grateful for. Some of the things that we mentioned that we are grateful for include our families, brothers, friends to play with, wonderful students who are eager to learn, caring teachers, food to eat and clothes to wear, and warm, sunny days. What are you grateful for? How do you show your gratitude to others?

3rd & 4th with Miss Santas

In third and fourth grade this week in Spanish we have started our last unit of the year, we are learning more about directions right now. In math the third graders are working hard on different measurements, while the fourth graders finished their chapter of measurements and started working on area and perimeter. On Friday, we participated in an escape room for math to help us review our math skills of working with fractions. In science, we started our next unit, we will be learning about rocks and resources on Earth .

5th-8th Math & Science with Mrs. Flock

This week in Science class the 7th and 8th graders are learning about the classes of seed plants-gymnosperms and angiosperms. Learning about the structure of a plant gave us the opportunity to dissect a lily which has both the female and the male structures in one flower. The 5th and 6th continue their studies on matter and energy, learning about the different forms of energy and how they are converted from one form to another. In Math, grade 5 is working on classifying angles and then triangles by both side and angle, while grade 6 is learning how to read and construct histograms. Grade 7 is working on application problems involving both direct and inverse proportions, and grade 8 is finishing their unit on statistics and information gathering.

5th-8th Literature & Spelling with Mrs. Slattery

We're beginning The Trojan War. It's a story that is "varied, exciting, pathetic, & beautiful all at once" as the author Olivia Coolidge describes it. The kings & queens, hero's, gods & goddesses are legendary. It'll be great!

Religion with Mrs. Steger

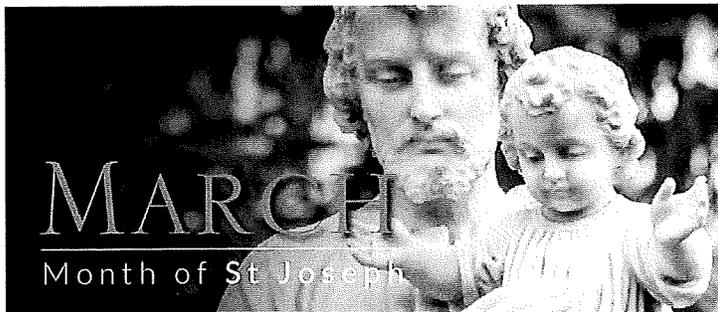

7/8 had a chapter on sin and mankind. Unfortunately, due to the disobedience of Adam and Eve we now have an inclination to sin. What does this mean? Sometimes we might think something is good when it's really not. It's also way easier for us to sin. One way to overcome sin is to know those areas that cause us to sin. It might be a place or a person or even a thing that makes it easier for us to sin. Once we know that, we can stay away from those things.

5/6 is now on the Liturgy of the Eucharist. This part of the Mass is full of gestures and movements which suggest a deeper meaning for us. The Mass can truly come alive when we are aware of these movements and meanings.

Atrium students learned about the mystery of life and death. We used wheat seeds in various stages of growth to show students what happens to a seed. Unless a grain of wheat falls to the earth and dies it remains just a grain, but if it dies it produces much fruit.

Phy Ed with Mr. Steger

For PE we have switched from working legs and core to working arms, chest, and shoulders. This means push ups, planks, and shoulder taps. When the weather is nice, we go outside and combine push ups and slam balls with capture the flag, which the kids very much enjoy, when they don't let the competitive spirit get carried away.

Fifth Sunday of Lent

St. Augustine Smorgasbord

You can also arrange delivery by calling 633-1326. This is a Catholic Order of Foresters matching funds event.

Reading Reflections

As we are nearing the end of our Lenten journey, our readings today remind us of the goodness that God has to offer us. In today's Gospel, Jesus announces that the "hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified." All that He came to do on this earth was soon fulfilled. When we reflect on what Jesus says in this passage, He tells us a great deal about how we should live as disciples of Christ. He clearly states, "Unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains just a grain of wheat; but if it dies, it produces much fruit." We must detach from our desires and entrust our lives to all God has in store. Without self-denial, we might miss occasions God has given us to produce good fruit. We have been practicing this throughout our Lenten season through fasting. One way to continue this effort after Lent is by taking advantage of the countless opportunities God presents to us to sacrifice our desires for something much more significant — whether waking earlier to spend time in prayer, fasting from a favorite comfort weekly, or taking the time to check in on a friend or family member instead of turning on the TV, to name a few. We must continue to make room for God and the good things He wants to produce in us all year long. As our Lenten journey soon concludes, may we consider how we might continue the practice of self-denial by offering small, daily sacrifices to the Lord.
